

Stanton Anthony

Breakfast and Conversation 2016

“Youth Homelessness and Human Resiliency in the Face of Adversity”

Join the University of Rochester’s Susan B. Anthony Center during their annual Stanton/Anthony Breakfast and Conversation!

This year’s program will include a screening of If These Walls Could Talk, a documentary about the struggles and opportunities of Rochester’s homeless youth. Film director Matthew Spaul will offer commentary before the screening. After the film, bestselling author D. Watkins will give a keynote address about American culture and race, and the empowering effects of education and art on youth, followed by a Q&A session. A breakfast buffet will be served.

Visit rochester.edu/sba for more information and to RSVP.

FRIDAY,
OCTOBER 7
8–10 A.M.

INTERFAITH CHAPEL
RIVER LEVEL

PUBLIC: $25
UR STUDENTS:
$15
TABLE OF EIGHT: $200

UNIVERSITY of ROCHESTER

MELIORA WEEKEND